TOMB RECEIVES WOODROW WILSON

TROUBLE ARISES OVER ACTION OF GERMAN EMBASSY

American Flag Mysteriously
Hoisted on Lawn of Embassy Property

CASE STILL MYSTERY

Indignation Results when German Officials Refuse To Pay Honor

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 6.—Sometime between dark and daylight this morning an American flag on a slender staff was planted on the lawn of the German embassy which on instructions from Berlin has failed so far to half-mast its German colors for Woodrow Wilson.

This morning the stars and stripes had been removed again from the embassy grounds and both the flag's appearance there and the exact story of its removal remained somewhat of a mystery. Police reported they received a complaint of the invasion of the embassy property, which it technically German soil. They did not know from whom the complaint came. Embassy officials said they made no such complaint and refused to discuss the matter further. Whether any member of the police force had taken the flag away was not clearly established.

Announcement yesterday that the German embassy would not like other diplomatic missions here half-mast its colors for the dead president aroused resentment among American Legion officials who declared they would ask the state department to take action. During the night, it is assumed, a small group of men or some individual took the matter in hand in the most direct way.

It was said by those at the embassy that Woodrow Wilson was regarded as a private citizen and therefore the Berlin government saw reason to show him the funeral honors due the head of a foreign state. It was that reason it was declared that the German flag had not been raised at all since Sunday. Late yesterday, however, after the situation had been noised about Washington, and created something of a sensation the embassy changed its mind and announced that after 12:30 today it would raise its flag and tie it at half-mast.

MIDWESTERN SECTION STILL IN COLD GRIP

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The midwestern and central sections were shaking off the grip of the storm which during the last two days has caused nearly a score of deaths and damage amounting into the millions of dollars to transportation and wire communication facilities.

Although more snow was forecast for today, the blizzards ebbing as it moves slowly eastward. Railroad, telegraph and telephone companies are hopeful of improving conditions at many points in the storm area, although sometime will elapse before train service will be normal and complete wire service restored.

Radio continues to be Chicago's chief means of communication. News, market reports and train orders have been broadcast to and from the city. Towns where telegraph and telephone service has been interrupted kept in touch with the events of the world by means of messages from the air.

Community Institute To be Held Soon at Francis, McRuer says

Rev. Duncan McRuer of the extension department of the University of Oklahoma, stated to a News representative that he is arranging for a community institute at Francis to be held there February 12, 13 and 14.

The institutes are designed to bring the university closer to the people by giving in community betterment and in infusing a new spirit of uplift. The program consists of addresses, entertainment, features, business conferences, examination of children by the medical staff, discussion of home problems, etc.

Six members of the university faculty are in charge and a little later Dr. Dean C. Dutton conducts another two-day institute by way of rounding out the work of the first.

French Beauty Peeved Over Candler Verdict

Mrs. Onezima De Bouchel.

(By the Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Onezima de Bouchel "surprised and disappointed" as she expressed it over the jury verdict in favor of Asa C. Candler, sr., in the $500,000 breach of promise suit brought against the Atlanta capitalist by the society leader, was today on her way to her home at Reno. The verdict was reached late yesterday after the jury had deliberated only 41 minutes.

JONES RESIGNS AS FIRE CHIEF

Veteran Fire Boss to Leave
Department After Many Years of Service

Somer Jones, who has been actively connected with the Ada fire department since 1910 and as fire chief since 1915, has placed his resignation in the hands of Mayor W. H. Fisher effective February 15. Jones, who is a veteran fire fighter, gave no reason for his resignation, merely stating that private interests prompted his severance as chief of the department he has helped build up in Ada.

Mayor W. H. Fisher announced this morning that no successor has been named to head the fire department but that the appointment would be made before the date Jones' resignation becomes effective.

The present fire chief stated that he would not withdraw his active duties from the department but would assist for a time at least as a volunteer fireman.

Jones went to work in the Ada department as a team driver September 1, 1910 and was appointed assistant to the chief April 1, 1911 and during that year assisted in perfecting the volunteer department of active firemen.

Jones took over the reins of the department as chief March 5, 1915 and at that time the equipment consisted of one team of horses, a wagon and 1,500 feet of hose and has been gradually enlarged until today the department boasts of a modernized fire-fighting apparatus consisting of two pumping engines with ladders and chemicals, one chemical truck and 5,000 feet of fire hose, all in first class condition.

The department at the present time has a company of 18 well-drilled firemen, a few whose services date back to 1911.

The average fire loss for the past eight years under Jones' charge has been on an average less than $20,000 per year, the lowest being in 1919 with a loss of only $883.

SHOP LIFTERS FLEE FROM MUSKOGEE JAIL

(By the Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Maudine Cross and Mrs. Katherine Stone, charged with shop-lifting and caught in a raid on a prominent hotel two weeks ago when police found approximately $3,000 worth of stolen goods in their rooms, escaped from the city jail this morning by sawing their way out of their cell. The escape was discovered early today. The women were being held on the second floor of the jail. They slid from the window to the ground on a rope made of blankets they had in their cell. It is thought that they fled in an automobile stationed near the jail by confederates.

Several days after the women were taken into custody here they were identified as being wanted in a score of cities all the way from Texas to Vancouver.

They were being kept in jail in default of $6,000 bonds on three charges of grand larceny.

Preparations for Active Resumption Of Oil Inquiry on

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Preparations for active resumption of the oil inquiry were pressed forward today while accountants broadened their search through the books of stock brokerage houses to determine for the senate investigating committee whether government officials had dealings in companies formed to take over the naval reserve leases.

The committee was in recess today out of respect for the memory of Woodrow Wilson but it was prepared to press in the senate tomorrow for the re-adoption of the resolution under which it is proceeding so that it may recall Albert B. Fall who as secretary of the interior arranged the leases, for questioning with renewal of the authority challenged by him last week.

TAFT UNABLE TO ATTEND WILSON FUNERAL SERVICE

Washington, Feb. 6.—Chief Justice Taft was taken with acute indigestion today and was unable to act as an honorary pall bearer for former President Woodrow Wilson. Justice Brandeis was invited to represent the supreme court. The chief justice's attack was said to be yielding to treatment.

SEVEN MAKE ESCAPE

High Power Pumps Rushed to
Mine to Start Draining
Water

(By the Associated Press)

CROSBY, Minn., Feb. 6.—The collapse of the bottom of a swamp lake sent a torrent of water into the Milford iron mine near here late yesterday and snuffed out the lives of 41 miners caught like rats in a trap.

More than 150 feet underground 48 miners were working when with hardly a warning the water burst through the roof, flooding the mine within 15 minutes within a few feet of the top of the shaft. Alarmed by the first rumbling as the earthen roof gave way seven near the first shaft darted up to safety but their comrades caught in the muddy, swirling water met death in the darkness.

High power electric pumps rushed here from Duluth were pumping water from the muddy swamp lake and mine today but mine experts said the workings and the lake must be emptied before it would be possible to remove the bodies. The pumps are drawing out the water at the rate of 12,000 gallons a minute but experts say it may require weeks and perhaps months to reach the imprisoned bodies.

Organizations of the villagers here and American Red Cross have taken over the work of ministering to the needs of the widows and orphans of the victims. Everything possible is being done to see to their comfort.

DIXIE INTERESTS PURCHASERS HERE

Gilbert and Clark Interests
Sold to Standard Oil
Subsidiary

A deal has been closed, whereby the Dixie Oil company, the Mid-Continent producing subsidiary of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, takes over the well of Clark and Gilbert in section 28-3-4, between Roff and Vanoss. The details of the deal have not been announced and both Mr. Clark and Mr. Gilbert were at Roff today with officials of the Dixie closing up the last details.

This deal has been under way for several days, and the terms were agreed upon last week. The consideration has not been announced, but it is said the young operators are getting a nice sum for their first flight in the game.

The coming of the Dixie to the county has given encouragement to others. Not only has the Dixie taken over the operation of the Clark & Gilbert properties, but it has purchased acreage in other sections of the county.

According to one connected with the Dixie, it is the plan of the company to drill several other wells in the Vanoss-Roff field, put in a pipe line to Roff, where the oil will be shipped to the refineries of the company at Wood River, Illinois, or Whiting, Ind.

OKLAHOMA JOINS NATION IN PAYING WILSON TRIBUTE

Oklahoma City, Feb. 6.—Oklahoma today joined the nation and the world in honoring the memory of Woodrow Wilson as the clay that housed the fiery dominating personality of the war time leader was borne by his comrades in conflict to its peaceful rest in an humble niche in the cathedral on Mt. St. Albans in Washington.

ONE KILLED AND ONE INJURED IN CAR WRECK

Muskogee, Feb. 6.—One man killed and another injured when a northbound extra freight train on the Missouri Pacific railway struck a motor truck at the depot at Braggs this morning. The dead man is Earl Fleck of Muskogee. Walter Foster of Muskogee is believed to have been internally injured.

Wilson Laid to Rest

EVACUATION OF VERA CRUZ BY REBELS SEEN

Washington, Feb. 6.—The "entire evacuation" of Vera Cruz by Huerta's insurgents against the Obregon government has been peacefully effected and that city today is again under control of its regular civilian authorities.

The rebels left Vera Cruz in a manner said by American consular officials there to have closely resembled panic. Both the military forces and naval craft which adhered to them were described as having departed in extreme haste. Their destination was unknown to American officials. Advice describing the situation at Vera Cruz received today from Consul Wood and made public by the state department, said the United States cruiser Richmond had entered Vera Cruz harbor and Admiral Magruder was co-operating in efforts to restore normal conditions.

POLITICS BRINGS ON DEATH FIGHT

Woman Candidate and Rival
Shoot Off Tie; Two Others Injured

(By the Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Roland Clark, candidate for mayor of Palmetto in the recent primary, is dead, her son and daughter wounded and Louis Meyer is in a hospital here, probably mortally wounded as a result of a gun fight in which all of the parties participated, according to the best information available here.

Mrs. Clark was opposed for election by a man named Isaaxson and they polled a tie vote. According to the version of the shooting received from Opelousas near Palmetto, Mrs. Clark, accompanied by her daughter met Meyer on the street and accused him of having brought a brother-in-law from Texas to vote for Isaaxson to break the tie. After some words Mrs. Clark drew a pistol and shot Meyer.

Meyer, after being wounded drew his own pistol and shot Mrs. Clark to death. Mrs. Clark's daughter took possession of her mother's weapon and Meyer shot and wounded her. At this juncture Mrs. Clark's son took up the battle and also was wounded by Meyer.

Railers to Meet.

EDMOND SUFFERS FROM TIGER FIVE

Central Caging Quintet Lose
To College Basketeers
In hard Battle

East Central's Tigers climbed another step toward a perch on the upper division of the Oklahoma Collegiate conference ladder when Central of Edmond bowed to superior court work of the local tribesmen at the College gym last night by a score of 21 to 19.

Nine of the nineteen points obtained by the Edmond cagers came from free throws from personal fouls on Ada players. East Central enjoyed only one point from the free-throw route and that thrown by Newton clinched the game for the local team with only a few spare seconds to play.

East Central assumed an early lead in the game and held it until the second quarter when Edmond, aided by free throws and a sudden burst of speed brought the game to a tie of 12 to 12. Two perfect shots of Jobe, however, brought the East Central squad to the leading column.

At the outset of the game Edmond proved a superior team in free shots at the goal. Johnson's perfect basket was offset by two free goals thrown by Wright. From the first counters to the final whistle, Edmond took advantage of the heavy penalties assessed to the Ada team and made twelve attempts at free goals from nine points.

Spectacular Basket Shooting
Sensational basket shooting seemed to be the only medium through which the East Central squad spectacular shots from midcourt netted ten of the 21 points. Jobe proved next in line on counters, making three field goals. White and Kratz counted one each and Newton threw the only free throw from four personal fouls on the Edmond team.

The hated rivalry between the two teams neared the uncontrollable stage on a few instances and hard playing marked both halves of the game. East Central suffered from penalties, Kratz being retired from the game on four fouls and Johnson and Kelly ending the game with three each.

Johnson was undoubtedly the outstanding star of the game. Shifting from the defense as soon as the ball was brought in East Central possession, Johnson proved the high point man with five perfect goals from exceptionally difficult corners of the court. Johnson's work at guard proved one of the features of the East Central defense and prevented the invaders from random attempts at baskets. Kelly worked as an efficient running mate for Johnson, his most effective work being shown in court play.

GREAT AMERICAN PASSES TO TOMB AFTER LIFE WORK

Vast Throng Silently View
Beloved War President
In Final Role

SIMPLICITY IN FUNERAL

Dignitaries of State Assemble
At Church When Simple
Tribute Ended

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Woodrow Wilson passed finally today from the world stage where once he towered a commanding figure.

In the sacred privacy of the home the last rites were said as simple as the faith of the man himself in the goodness of God. Only a few who were his colleagues in days of greatness and the quiet thousands waiting outside under wintry skies for a humble share in the last leave taking marked this as the funeral of a great man.

There was a more formal tone at the cathedral service which followed. In the chapel that gives entrance to the vault of entombment where gathered the dignitaries of governments and men in places of power in America. The organ note and the pealing voices of the choir added a touch to the ceremony of the brief religious exercise. But at the very last the dead passed again into the keeping of his nearest and dearest who alone might watch over the entombment and here resigned to the faith expressed by the service. The nation's share in that last moment was only to stand in silent reverence outside while the tomb received the keeping of an honored American.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The nation waited today to pay its last silent tribute to Woodrow Wilson. The simple arrangements for the funeral of America's war president were completed and the machinery of the government slowed to a stop.

Hours before the funeral cortege would leave the S. street home where he found peace after the turmoil of eight years in the highest office his countrymen could give him the streets were filling along the way it would pass. Congress stood idle in honor of the dead and the great government departments set free swarms of thousands from their duties that they might share in the tribute. Placed at intervals along the way were soldiers and marines to hold open the road.

There was but little respect for the dead to draw those silent watchers away from the busy thoroughfares of the city into outlying quiet streets that the funeral processions would travel. It was to be a silent spectacle without martial or mourning band. They could not hear the private services at the home and only a few could catch the echoes of the more formal ceremonies at the chapel where the body of the fallen leader will be entombed. They came, however, to stand before the building and wait in silence as the casket was carried from one to the other.

On S. street even the pedestrians traffic had been closed. Opposite where throughout his long illness the throng stood in a waiting line that sometimes knelt in prayer these were permitted to stand today.

Just Simple Service
There was no music, just a simple service, nothing that could carry to the waiting people in the streets. The library where the services was held it at the back of the house and no window glimpse rewarded the patient watchers in the street.

The arrival before the home of a squad of non-commissioned men from the army, navy and marine corps threw the one touch of color over the simple rites. They were eight men from each service specially selected for their records of duty to the flag well done. Their task was carrying out the casket under its shrouded flag, lift it to the hearse, then fall in about the hearse and follow it as the funeral train moves off down the hill. Again at the chapel these hands would bear the honored burden in to the dimly lighted room where the funeral services would be held.

The actual entombment was reserved for the eyes of his own loved ones alone. The president, his cabinet, the generals, admirals and diplomats had no part in that. Their tributes ended with the benediction and the family alone would see the casket gently lowered to its place in the vault to wait peacefully until men shall decide upon a fitting work of carved stone to mark the final resting place of the servant of the nation faithful to the death.

FRANCE FAVORS ARMAMENT PLAN

Will Hurry Washington Plan
Of Naval Construction
For Own Defense

(By the Associated Press)
PARIS.—When France completes the reduction of the first section of her naval program, elaborated in conformity with the Washington disarmament agreement, the fleet of the republic will consist of nine battleships, 14 cruisers, 60 torpedo boats and destroyers, and 64 submarines. This will be done by the spring of 1926.

Of the nine battleships, however, two are now obsolete and are not even today carried in the parliamentary reports as effective weapons of offense. Six of the 14 cruisers will have passed the age limit, and 17 torpedo boats and destroyers are admitted by naval experts to be unequal to the task that would be allotted to them in present naval warfare. Twenty of the submarines which saw service during the late war, according to a parliamentary report, would be useless.

Thus France could bring into line for effective naval operations seven battleships, eight cruisers, 43 torpedo boats and destroyers and 40 submarines.

Minister of Marine Flaminius Ralberti, expressing his conviction that such a reduced fleet would be unable to ensure the security of France's naval frontiers and the liberty of its naval lines of communications, recently introduced a bill in the chamber, asking authorization to proceed immediately to work on the second section of the naval program, as agreed upon at Washington.

The bill provides for the construction of six cruisers of 10,000 tons; 15 destroyers of 2,400 tons; 25 torpedo boats of 1,450 tons; four submarine cruisers of 3,000 tons; 30 submarines of the first class, 1,300 tons each; two mine layers of 4,000 tons and four tankers of 10,000 tons each. According to the government's program work on these various units was to commence in January, 1925, and be completed in 1930.

Deputy Paul Denise, secretary of the Naval Commission of the Chamber, in submitting his report endorsing the program of the government, recommended that 'owing to the precarious condition of the French Navy,' the entire program be completed between 1924 and 1925.

This program as amended by the Naval Commission will come up for discussion during the present year, probably a few weeks after the new chamber meets next May. It involves an expenditure of 2,350,000,000 francs, which the present chamber is unwilling to saddle upon the country just previous to going to the polls.

FLORIDA TO WELCOME HORSESHOE PITCHERS

(By the Associated Press)
LAKE WORTH, Fla., Feb. 6.—Twelve of the finest "barnyard golf" links or courts in the country are now in readiness here for the National Mid-Winter Horseshoe Pitchers' tournament, to be held February 18 to 23. The local horseshoe club has declared that 'it is our intention to make this the best and most interesting tournament ever held.'

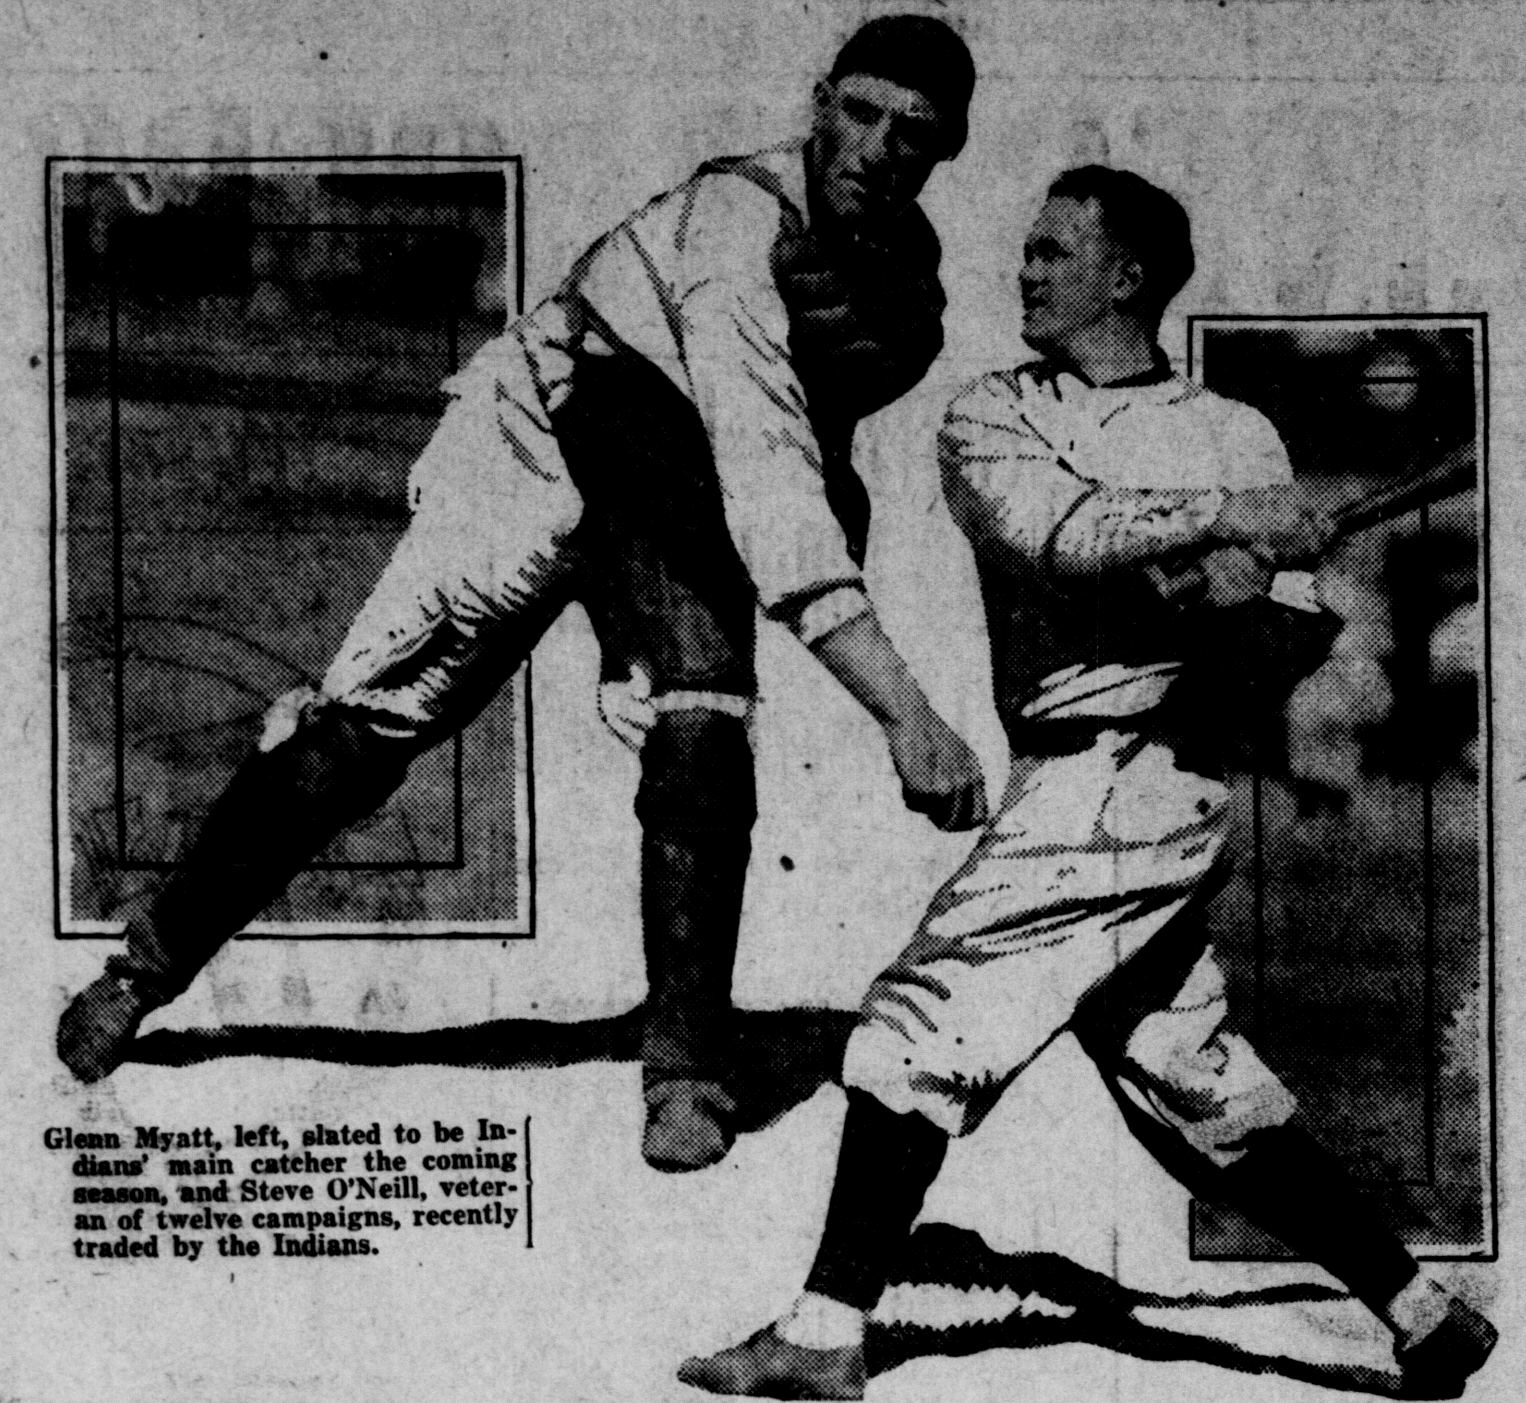

Celebrities in the horseshoe pitching world are expected to take part in the tournament.

Lake Worth, according to the program, is planning an elaborate reception for the horseshoe pitchers and guests. The financial part, it is said, has been arranged, and the prize money, amounting to several thousand dollars, will be kept on deposit in local banks until the names of the winners have been announced.

The program states that there will be a reception, a grand ball, a banquet, a theater party, motor rides and other entertainment.

The national tournament will be under the auspices of the National Horseshoe Pitchers' Association and the Lake Worth Horseshoe Club.

Will Another Catcher, Mack Discarded, Be Indian Star

Glenn Myatt, left, slated to be Indians' main catcher the coming season, and Steve O'Neill, veteran of twelve campaigns, recently traded by the Indians.

Back in the baseball season of 1910 Steve O'Neill star catcher of the Shamokin Blues, made his debut in professional baseball with the Elmira club in the New York State league. He had played 28 games with that outfit when Connie Mack decided that the "kid" should be given a big league try-out. He promptly bought Steve but as promptly decided he didn't need the youngster and let him go to Worcester in the New England league the following season. Steve never got a chance behind the bat for the Mackmen—then thundering along the upper road in baseball.

The Cleveland scouts decided Steve was a comet, however, and on their advice that club bought Steve. The following season he caught the majority of the games for the Cleveland outfit and from that year on was the team's regular catcher. A few years later he stood out as one of the best catchers in the game and battled annually with Ray Schalk of the White Sox for catching honors.

The other day the Indians let him go to the Red Sox in the deal that put an Indian uniform on George Burns once again.

And now, the gent who is slated to succeed him is Glenn Myatt, another one of Mack's cast-offs.

Myatt's Thrown In
Back in 1919 Myatt was catching for Houston in the Texas league. One of the big stars he handled that year was Byron Harris. Connie wanted Harris, and to make the deal more attractive the Houston club threw in Myatt. Myatt went to Quakertown and warmed the bench for two seasons while Cy Perkins caught his usual brilliant game day in and day out. At one time Connie tried to make an outfielder out of the youngster but Glenn didn't take to the garden work.

Then Threw Out
Came the time when Connie needed a first baseman and had a chance to get Zip Hauser from Milwaukee. Myatt was sent to Milwaukee in the deal.

In 1922, Myatt led the American association in the batting with the beautiful little average of .370. The Indians promptly paid the Milwaukee club $35,000—the highest price it ever had given for a player with the exception of Tris Speaker.

Showed Much Promise
Last season Myatt showed plenty of promise when given a chance to perform. He hit well and showed, however, in bolstering pitched a good throwing arm. He seemed to be carrying them through tight places. This will come to him, however, with regular work.

Myatt must fight for the catching job with Luke Sewell—brother of Shortfielder Joey—and Al Walters, also obtained in the Burns deal. It is the general opinion, however, that Myatt will get first call.

If he does and delivers the Indians can thank Connie Mack for putting them on easy street for catching material once more.

Wide Program Arranged For Farming Benefit at Conference at Stillwater

STILLWATER, Feb. 6.—Re-establishment of faith in farming and stockraising in Oklahoma, encouragement of the farmer, and impulsion of bankers to foster safe-farming programs for 1924, are purposes set forth in announcement of a banker-farmer conference to be held at Stillwater, the A. and M. college of Oklahoma, February 8 and 9.

Oklahoma Bankers' association leaders will be aided by officials of the American Bankers' association and by agricultural experts of the college, since members of the agricultural committees of the state and national bankers' association are cooperating, with assistance of college authorities, in arranging the conference.

Burton M. Smith, North Lake, Wis., chairman of the agricultural commission of the A. B. A. and D. H. Otis, Madison, Wis., director, are among the prominent out-of-state bankers who will have leading parts in the conference.

Oklahoma bank officials listed on the program are Frank J. Wikoff, Oklahoma City, representative of the Tenth federal reserve district in the agricultural commission of the A. B. A., and Frank W. Bryant, Tulsa, president of the O. B. A.

"It is for the purpose of permitting bankers to confer with their national officers and others regarding a safe-farming program for the year that the conference will be held," President Bradford Knapp, of A. and M. college, said. "Results of the experimental work of the college and the programs which it is conducting through its extension work will be explained to the bankers. It is expected that good understandings will be reached, and that unity of thought and purpose will be developed."

Three features of the conference will be discussions relative to projects fostering boys' and girls' club work on the farm, promotion of better systems of diversified farming, and the securing and dissemination of information to bankers on economic conditions affecting farming.

W. L. Hert, Stillwater banker, as chairman of the agricultural committee of the O. B. A., is arranging the details of the conference program.

In a letter to Hert, relative to plans for the affair, Wikoff, Oklahoma representative of the national association, said: "Our task is to get the banker himself interested in the farmer's problems. It is through the banker and town and small city folks, that the farmer must be taught how to raise enough food for his family and feed for his livestock; to raise enough livestock and poultry to consume the stuff on his place; to raise cash crops he can properly tend and market, and to maintain fertility of soil."

Through Eugene P. Gum, secretary of the state bankers' association, invitations are issued to agricultural committees of the state and national associations; presidents of the various groups; state vice-presidents of the A. B. A., and to all bankers of Oklahoma who are interested in the conference.

Any person interested in agriculture will be welcome at the sessions, officers in charge have announced.

Settles Question of Bobbed Hair.
To bob or not to bob!

It is a question that has perplexed proud society queens and simple shop girls. Colleen Moore, who plays one of the leading roles in 'April Showers,' which will be shown at the McSwain theatre beginning Thursday, says that no decision she ever made caused her so much deliberate fore-thought.

Style is Ancient.
"One day," says Colleen, "I was delving into ancient history and was surprised to learn that there was at one time a regular fashion craze among Egyptian ladies for bobbing the hair. And it wasn't over in a minute either. The vogue continued for many years. It took some of them longer than others to master, up their courage, I guess."

The vivacious little Irish actress does not believe that the present day popularity for bobbed hair will ever go entirely out. She herself made the great decision after watching many picture plays.

Lawn, Converted Into Ballroom.
Used by Royalty for Dancing

(By the Associated Press)
Stanhoe, England.—A king and queen, four princes, two princesses and a royal duchess danced with 400 other guests on the lawn of Berwick House recently. The lawn had been converted into a ballroom by placing parquet flooring on it and the erecting of canvas wall and roof decorated in the same way as an old Georgian mansion.

The occasion was the ball given by the West Norfolk Hunt, at the home of the master, Lieutenant Colonel C. D. Seymour, whose mansion had no dancing accommodation for such a number of guests. The guests thoroughly enjoyed the novelty. The king and queen of Norway came over from Sandringham with the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family.

FROWN ON UNION IN STEEL MARKET

Co-Operation of Ruhr and Lorraine Instill Competition
Not Practical

(By the Associated Press)
HAMBOURG.—The idea of effective cooperation between the Ruhr coal and coke industry and the Lorraine steel industry, with the idea of creating formidable competition with British and American steel manufacturers in the world market, is frowned upon as impracticable by most of the Ruhr industrialists, in the opinion of Dr. Kunarius, one of the directors of the August Thyssen steel works here.

He said there were very few economic arguments in favor of such a combination but there were numerous factors against it, the chief one being that Swedish ore in Ruhr blast furnaces was much cheaper than the Lorraine product and had a much greater percentage of iron.

"For example," said Dr. Kunarius, "to manufacture one ton of pig iron from Swedish ore, containing an iron content of from 60 to 65 percent it requires only 900 kilograms of coke; but if Lorraine ore is used, which contains only 28 to 30 percent iron, it requires 1,400 kilograms of coke to manufacture one ton of pig iron."

Moreover, he said, the freight on Lorraine ore would be very high, even allowing for the normal functioning of the "Regie" railway system, whereas the freight on Swedish ore is only a small item, owing to the fact that it can be transported all the way by water, right to Thyssen's own docks at the very doors of the blast furnaces.

"Besides," he continued, "our blast furnaces are built particularly for the development of iron from ore of very high iron percentage, and if we used Lorraine ore it would mean almost a complete reorganization of our plants. Blast furnaces must develop tremendous heat and very high pressure to reduce Lorraine ore to pig iron."

"The Lorraine blast furnaces, of course, must have Ruhr coke, because they are built for very high pressure on account of the leanness of the ore; and Ruhr coke is the only product that will function properly in such furnaces. But the Ruhr steel industry can get along very well without Lorraine ore."

The proportion of deaths from malaria and cholera alone to the English in the Crimean war was 60 percent.

LIONS AND WIVES IN JOINT FEAST

Novel Program Rendered at Banquet for Lions and Their Bosses

The members of the Ada Lion's club had their wives as their guests at a banquet at the Harris Hotel last night at which time a particularly interesting program was rendered.

The entire meeting was characterized by the manifestation of the spirit of Lionism and numerous stunts were pulled at intervals in which both the Lions and their wives participated. A roll call of the members was answered by each Lion giving his given name, and as a consequence the unsolved mysteries of many initials of the members was brought to light. At a roll call of the wives, and to which they answered with their ages, the oldest Lioness present proved to be only sixteen and a half. The mysteries and mysticisms of far India were discussed at length, and a practical demonstration of hypnotic power was given by one who was introduced as a distinguished citizen of the British Empire but who proved to be Mr. C. E. McLean, chief chemist of the Choctaw Cotton Oil Co. A Lion's club scandal was aired by Dr. A. Linsehold who preferred charges against a member of the club.

The member charged then held the club spellbound while he made a masterful address in his defense which resulted in his absolute exoneration when the question was put to a vote of the members present.

The following selections were rendered during the evening:

Piano solo—Miss Francis Walters.

Violin solo—Miss Lillian Strite. Miss Mary Bella Harvey at the piano.

Clarinet solo—Mr. Drew Page. Miss Juanita Ford at the piano.

Reading—Miss Lady Percy Shaw.

SHE REFUSED HIM

"I was engaged to the prettiest little doll in Indiana, but my stomach and liver trouble had made me so grouchy that she broke it off. I tried all kinds of medicine and doctors and got no relief. The gas blew me up like a porcupine and I had awful colic attacks. Finally I heard of May's Wonderful Remedy and it has certainly fixed me up fine. I am now as good as ever." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Indignant Males go In for High Bridge

Tired of permitting the women to gain a corner on exclusive parties, a group of indignant but pleasure seeking husbands gathered at the home of T. O. Cullins last night for the first stag bridge party to be held in Ada.

Twenty alleged brow-beaten husbands assembled at the Cullins home, while wives, not to be outdone celebrated the absence of husbands with a line party at the McSwain theatre.

The bridge tables, laden with cigar ashes, were scenes of frenzied playing in true masculine style, the results of which showed Jess Duncan to be the best scorer and Tom Roff annexing the booby prize.

Refreshments and sandwiches, cake and drinks (?) were served throughout the evening.

The party consisted of King Wagner, Val Land, E. H. Stearns, Clarence West, Ed Dodd, Harold Constant, Leland Thompson, Cecil Mallory, T. O. Dandridge, Jess Duncan, Jim Duncan, Joe Emanuel, Sam Reeker, Harry Hager, Tom Roff, La-on Gettel, Sam Grant, Roy Givens, J. W. Davis and T. O. Cullins.

First Baptist Ordination Service
Tonight at 7:30, the First Baptist church will have an ordination service for the purpose of ordaining twelve new deacons. Many of our people have never seen a service of this kind and it will be interesting to all. There will be special music by our male quartette and you will want to hear them.

Rev. F. B. Thorn of the First Baptist church of McAlester, will deliver the sermon instead of Dr. Holcomb of Sherman. A message from Dr. Holcomb state that on account of sickness in his family it would be impossible for him to be present, but we are fortunate in having Dr. Thorn who arrived on the noon train. He is one of the strongest preachers in Oklahoma and will bring a great message.

Rev. L. E. Lamb of Stonecreek will deliver the charge to the deacons and the pastor of the First Baptist of Ada will offer the ordination prayer. The members of the church are urged to be present and the public is cordially invited.—Clyde Calhoun Morris, pastor.

Parker Obeys Custom Lantern is Used

A. W. Parker may be a speedy salesman but a gardener—never. He thinks planting vines according to the old customs concerning the darkness of the moon means that he must toil away in the hours of the night with the assistance of the flickering rays of the family lantern.

Respecting the wishes of his aged mother, Parker decided to plant berry vines sent him according to the custom heradised down through the generations pointing to more luscious growth if given to Mother Earth on the dark of the moon.

Parker applied the spade to his garden for two hours in the afternoon preparing for the planting of the vines and with the darkness of the night sought out the family lantern to guide him in his work.

Parker thinks the blisters on his hands should entitle him a just reward of berries from the vines regardless of his night prowling.

Kratz played a distinctive game at center. His hard playing was misinterpreted by the referee who retired him near the end of the game on four personal fouls. Kratz fought the entire period and much of the credit in defense belongs to him.

CONFEDERATE VETS OF COUNTY NAME LEADERS

From the thinned ranks of Confederate veterans of Pontotoc county, William Byrd camp, W. B. Cantrell has been named to head the organization for the year of 1924, it was announced following a meeting last Sunday.

Other officers elected at the meeting, which was held at the Convention Hall, are as follows: W. F. McKaskle, first lieutenant; F. C. Jones, second lieutenant; Wyatt Webb, adjutant; J. W. Brundige, chaplain; J. C. Combs, color bearer.

The following resolution was adopted at the meeting on the deaths of Comrades W. U. Walker, James Goines and A. H. Kilpatrick:

"Flowers have their time to bloom, and trees to bud, but all times are thine O Death." And thus as it was ordained in the beginning, death came to our comrades W. U. Walker, who died September 20th; James Goines, December 27th; and A. H. Kilpatrick, December 28th, 1923.

"Gallant soldiers they were in time that tried mens souls. Good citizens. The few of us who remain will miss them in the walks of life and in our meetings.

"On fame's eternal camping ground Their silent tents are spread, And glory guards with solemn sound.

The bivouac of the dead."

J. M. BRUNDIGE,
J. C. CATES, Committee.

OBITUARY

J. H. Luther, age 76, died this morning at 1:40 at his home 500 East Ninth street following a lingering illness.

The funeral services were set for 3:30 this afternoon from the family home, conducted by Rev. R. T. Blackburn, pastor of the First Methodist church. Interment at Rosedale cemetery.

Mr. Luther was a pioneer of Ada, having located here 22 years ago. He was well known to most of the citizens and held in high esteem by all. He was born in Mississippi.

Deceased is survived by his widow who shared his joys and sorrow, for nearly 55 years, and the following children: Mrs. G. D. Cooper, Mrs. W. T. White, W. T. Luther, of Degeen, Ark., Harvey Luther, Roy Luther, Mrs. Roxie Ortel and Mrs. Lela Ezell. All were present at the parting with the exception of the son in Arkansas.

ADA PAYS TRIBUTE TO WAR TIME PRESIDENT

At the appointed hour today, Ada began her silent observance of the burial of Woodrow Wilson, war president of the United States.

In compliance with a resolution adopted by the Retail Merchants association yesterday, most of the business houses had closed doors for a full hour to pay tribute to the beloved president as his body is being carried to its shrine.

With few exceptions merchants checked the wheels of business and journeyed to the Convention Hall where special memorial services were being conducted out of respect for the silent leader.

Those in charge of the services at the Convention Hall today indicated that the program previously announced would be followed out in detail, speakers eulogizing the characteristics of the life of Woodrow Wilson.

Tell a Tale of Fluffy,
Bouffant Silhouettes

New Spring ideas have mustered together delightful and varied assortments of what America has interpreted from France and the Far as the most flattering and satisfying to Milady. Delightful, fresh colorings coming right on the heel of Winter's drab shades break, a great deal, the monotony of fashions in general.

NEW COATS and WRAPS

One could help but view this assortment of the new without a palliated admiration. The new soft shades, in many instances are made into wraps without the contrast of any others, while the combination shades designed in bars, large checks and Englishy plaids are considered just as good.

Alpaca, fine braids and ribbons as trimmings on wraps that fasten at the side are, indeed, the most cunning yet devised.

ADA DEBATE CLUB WIN FIRST MEET

Pauls Valley Trio Defeated By Ada High School Debaters.

Ada high school won the first victory of the debating season Saturday evening by defeating the Pauls Valley high school team in an encounter held here. The decision of the judges was unanimous in favor of the Ada debaters.

The judges were Dr. Marshburn of the University of Oklahoma, Prof. Herring of East Central and C. W. White, superintendent of the Stratford school.

Another feature of the evening program was a series of vocal numbers by the girls' glee club of the high school.

The question under discussion was: Resolved that the Philippines should be granted immediate independence.

Pauls Valley championed the affirmative. Abc arguments were presented by Otis Warren, L. E. Suggs and Barndale McRee.

Ada had the negative side of the question and this was most admirably handled by Bob Naylor and Misses Dixie Lee Russell and Virginia Webb.

This question is the one selected for the state this year. The debate here was the first of a series to pick the winning team that will represent East Central district in the state contest in the spring. All of the leading high schools of the district will participate and the winners in the first round will be pitted against other winning teams until all but one are eliminated.

In the debate here all of the young contestants showed evidence of close study and careful preparation. The Ada team was coached by Prof. German and the Pauls Valley trio by Prof. J. S. Smith, the high school principal.

Besides Prof. Smith the visiting team was accompanied here by Supt. H. E. Barsh and Prof. E. W. Sampson.

LEGION MEMBERS TO HOLD PARLEY

Important Problems of Ada Post to be Discussed at Meeting.

Several important matters will be brought up at the regular meeting of the Norman Howard post, American Legion at the Convention Hall Tuesday night, according to the announcement of Robert S. Kerr.

In announcing the meeting, Commander Kerr urged that all members attend and especially members of the executive committee.

Discussion and action on problems vital to the interest of the local post is necessary, Commander Kerr stated.

Three of the most important matters to come before the legion membership at their next meeting, according to Commander Kerr, will be the continuance of the membership drive to World war veterans, furnishing of the legion quarters in the Convention Hall and plans for payment of outstanding debts of the legion.

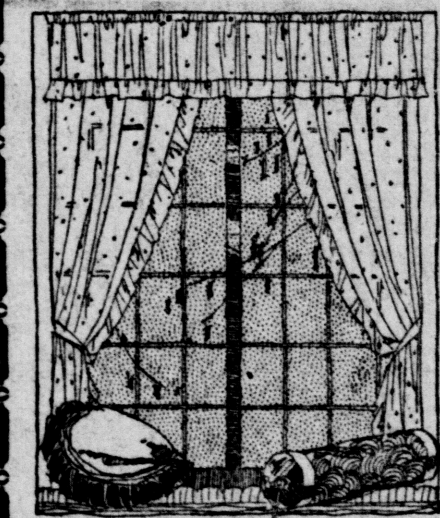

In commenting on the indebtedness of the organization Kerr indicated that all financial obligations of the post would be met before other expenditures are made by the post. Kerr intimated that the legion would be in a position to make a partial payment on all debts incurred by the post during past years and in the near future assume the full responsibility of the post's obligations.

Commander Kerr served notice on veterans that an early campaign would be launched for the entertainment of state veterans who will meet here in their annual convention this year.

FIRE!

There's not a man who does not feel a tinge of fear at the sound of the fire siren. The alarm may be from his own home. True, every effort that is humanly possible will be made to save his property, but that will not help him in the financial loss, even though it be small.

An insurance policy in any of the companies represented by this agency will afford absolute protection against financial loss. No man can well afford to be without this protection, no matter what valuation he places on his property.

And in these winter months, when the fire hazard is greatest, your INSURANCE POLICY is a most timely protector, indeed.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

WHOSOEVER WILL COME AFTER ME, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's the same shall save it. —Mark 8:34, 35.

AARON BURR.

Today marks another anniversary of the birth of Aaron Burr, vice-president under Jefferson during part of his first term. The country has produced few politicians as shrewd as he and few men ever fall more rapidly from the pinnacle of success to the lowest depths of disgrace.

Burr was an ardent advocate of the principles of democracy as enunciated by Jefferson and in the memorable presidential contest of 1800 he was chosen as Jefferson's running mate. Under the provisions of the constitution at that time each elector cast a ballot for two men without specifying which was his choice for the presidency and which for second place. The man receiving a majority was to be the president and the next man vice-president. Under the working of this plan when Jefferson and John Adams were rival candidates in 1796 Adams received three more votes than his opponent, hence Jefferson as the second man became vice-president. At the next election, however, each party determined that it would capture both offices and Jefferson's party selected Burr. Of course they received the same number of votes and this made it necessary for the election to go to the house of representatives where each state had one vote. Jefferson's opponents controlled several states and some of these in an endeavor to defeat him cast their votes for Burr and maintained the tie until only a few days before the inauguration day. Patriotic men became alarmed for should no choice be made before that time the government would automatically go to pieces for want of a head. Some of the more patriotic Federalists rose to the occasion and elected Jefferson, for it was realized that Burr was not of presidential size.

Bitterly disappointed Burr still determined to win the prize that had so narrowly eluded him made the race against Alexander Hamilton for the governorship of New York. Defeated here he challenged Hamilton a duel and killed him. This brought down a avalanche of denunciation on the head of Burr and his busy mind set about to create a new nation.

Then next chapter of his career opens in the Southwest. He doubtless had heard of the broad fertile land of Texas and probably had in mind the conquest of that country from the Spaniards and the setting up of a government of his own which would attract hardy spirits from all parts of the world. However, he was suspected of a plot to disrupt the Union and was arrested and taken to Richmond to stand trial on a charge of treason. He was acquitted but he no longer commanded the prestige of his earlier years and after the loss of his daughter, Theodosia at sea he left the country a broken hearted man and spent several years in Europe.

On his return to his native country he made some headway for a time in the practice of law but in the end he drifted down to poverty and died almost utterly friendless.

The only tangible result of the career of Burr is the Tammany Hall organization of New York which he is credited with founding.

That Burr had a brilliant mind no one can dispute. However, he chose to travel in crooked paths with the inevitable result that his life ended a pitiable failure. Fate decreed that he should remain on the earth for many long days and he underwent all the suffering that is possible for a man to experience. His name might have shone as brilliantly on the pages of American history as does that of Jefferson but he was not content to bide his time and follow the straight path. The success of his earlier years only made his fall the greater and his last years all the more bitter. The youth of today could study the life of Burr with great profit.

A sports writer in the Dearborn Independent who states that he is an athletic director in a well known college, predicts a great scandal in athletic circles. He says the keen rivalry in football has made it a common practice for colleges to hire players for their teams, although it is kept pretty well under cover for the simple reason that it is a difficult matter to find one that is in a position to cast the first stone at an offender. If this man is correct college athletic contests are doomed for when real sportsmanship gives way to professionalism the public will no longer have the interest in them that it now has. The public believes in fair play and if a game is to be played by professionals it will demand that it be clearly understood to be such as in the case of organized baseball.

Luther Harrison of the Holdenville Democrat has accepted a position as editorial writer for the Oklahoman. Mr. Harrison wields a virile pen, as readers of the Ada News are aware, and the Oklahoman is to be congratulated on securing his services. No man in the state is better posted on politics than Luther Harrison and in the political scraps of the future his utterances will play an important part in the affairs of the state.

That has become of the reformer who a few years ago teaching the back to the farm doctrine.

CUPID'S DART

STATE INVITED TO ATTEND MEET

Oklahoma, Kansas, Arkansas and Texas High Schools Asked in Track Meet

Norman, Okla., (Special)—High schools of Oklahoma and states of Texas, Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri and New Mexico will receive invitations for the athletic officials of the University of Oklahoma to send their track teams to the first annual relay carnival of the university May 10.

Upon completion of the modern cinder track in Soonerland, the athletic officials decided to hold an open invitation high school relay carnival annually. Any high school in the United States will be eligible to take part in the carnival upon the single condition that the teams conform to eligibility requirements of the states from which they come.

Oklahoma high schools and those of the neighboring states are being carnival and all communications sent special invitations to attend the relay games in order to build up the event.

Competition will be held in 440-yard 880-yard relay, mile relay and medley relay events; in the 100-yard dash; 120-yard high hurdles and 220-yard low hurdles in the shot put; discus, javelin, high jump, broad jump and pole vault.

Hugh V. McDermott, Ben G. Owen and John Jacobs will manage the concerning entries should be addressed to Owen. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given first, second and third places in each event and loving cups will be awarded to winning teams.

This annual carnival started in the belief that all that track and field teams of the middle west need develop was some such annual event where all likely athletes could meet in competition.

Jointly with the high school relay carnival a collegiate track and field meet will be held open to all colleges of Oklahoma. This is the annual intercollegiate track and field meet.

All first place records of the meet this year will be entered as records of the relay carnival to stand until new records are made.

JAPANESE SEEK MANILA TRADE

(By the Associated Press)
Manila.—A branch of the Japanese "Sho-Ho-Sha" or Bureau of Commercial Information is to be established in Manila soon to bring about closer business relations. It is said the pressing need of construction materials, especially timber, has hastened the establishment of the Manila branch.

The bureau was established in Japan several years ago to bring foreign markets into closer touch with Japanese markets.

Interscholastic Track Meet for Year to See Several Changed Plans

NORMAN, Feb. 6.—Dates for the annual Oklahoma Interscholastic track and field meet of the University of Oklahoma are April 24, 25 and 26, according to Ben G. Owen, secretary of the High School Athletic association of the state.

The program for the meet has been virtually completed and is essentially the same as the past three years with one important innovation.

The number of entries in the track and field events have been so large in recent years that the athletic committee saw fit to schedule for this year a day of preliminary events in order to clear the field somewhat for the final contests Saturday.

The preliminary track and field events will be run off Friday afternoon in all classes and in all events with entries greater than can be accommodated in the finals, John Jacobs, Sooner track coach, said Saturday.

Approximately 1,000 athletes have been entered in track and field events in the meets of recent years. The preliminaries have been run off Saturday morning and afternoon the same day of the finals. This feature has tired the athletes and it is believed to have sapped their strength to such an extent that few records have fallen in recent years; with the exception of 1923 when four new records were established on account of the new cinder track of the Sooners.

Class C Abolished.
Another change in track plans is being contemplated. That of abolishing class C events entirely, continuing classes A and B. Class C was added to the meets in 1920 on account of several high schools in the state that had been dismissed from the athletic association and association members being prevented from competing with these dismissed schools.

Class C was continued on account of small non-association schools not desiring to enter the association and the rule which prevents association members from competing with schools which do not meet eligibility requirements.

More than 400 high schools of the state are now members of the association and it is believed that the non-membership is so small that competition in class C would not be assured. If enough entries in class C come in, this division will probably be continued another year.

Classes A and B are open to association members according to the class they wish to enter. Champions of class B are forced to enter class A the following year, which prevents a team of class A rating from entering class B and hogging the show.

Sooner mentors are preparing for the greatest high school meet in history this year. The bleachers erected around the new track to serve the 1923 football crowds, has been retained for the track and field meet. These bleachers will accommodate approximately 12,000 spectators.

The new cinder track is one of the fastest in the west and has now had a year of conditioning. Last season speed records were tumbled when the track was wet three days old. The pathway is now faster than last spring on account of settling and constant attention from Sooner coaches.

BRITISH OPINION FOR BATTLESHIPS NOTICED

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON.—England has been interested in a debate as to whether the modern battleship had not been rendered obsolete by the airplane. Admiral Mark Kerr took the affirmative and Viscount Curzon the negative. The decision favored the arguments of Curzon.

The Viscount contended that whether or not the present type of capital ship was obsolete depended on whether the battleship could be destroyed by under-water boats or by aircraft. Jutland proved that the bomb and torpedo had not gained ascendancy over the heavy gun. Gunfire had an accuracy far above that of the weapons of submarines or planes. Experiments purporting to show that the big ship was at the mercy of hovering planes had been carried out, but the target ship was an obsolete one, and the test had been carried out in fair weather and perfect water. The battleship still remained the greater factor of naval strength.

"Admiral Kerr's suggested large aircraft carrier," Viscount Curzon said, "was just as vulnerable as the big battleship, which after all, could have its protective sea-planes."

LODGE REMAINS AT HOME DURING WILSON FUNERAL

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, Feb. 6.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Mass., although designated by the senate as a member of the committee to attend Woodrow Wilson's funeral services, remained at his home throughout the day. His office announced he was confined on the advice of his physicians because of a bad throat.

The Paris police are under orders to report the presence and activities of all foreigners. The law requiring identification cards will also be enforced, and persons remaining over the allotted two months will be expelled at once.

EXPERIENCE AS NURSE CAUSES MRS. FLEMING TO ENDORSE TANLAC

Western Woman Regained Strength, Following Operation, by Tanlac Treatment—Recommends It to Patients.

"I would never have believed any medicine on earth could help me like Tanlac did," is the precise statement of Mrs. Celia Fleming, 1515 Addison St., Berkeley, Calif., a practical nurse of sixteen years' experience.

"In 1904 a serious operation weakened my system so I never saw a real well day until I took Tanlac three years ago. I never seemed to be hungry, my stomach was so dis-ordered I could scarcely retain a thing I ate, and I lost weight till I was almost a shadow. I was very anemic, and shattered nerves and sleepless nights contributed even more to my already miserable state.

"Tanlac built up my appetite and digestion wonderfully, and every single ailment went away. Then, with returning strength came a 32-pound increase in weight, and from that day three years ago my health has been splendid. I recommended Tanlac to many of my patients, for it is indeed a remarkable medicine."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold. Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills. Adv.

THE EVIL SHEPHERD by E. Phillips Oppenheim

THE hard-boiled reader of mystery and romance stories may tire of others, but he never grows weary of Oppenheim. He knows that he can always count upon new thrills and some surprises. He also chuckles over the way in which the author leads him to think that plot and characters are going to develop along certain lines when in reality they are bound for entirely different paths. In "The Evil Shepherd" there are thrills galore and some entirely unexpected developments, but we are not going to spoil the pleasure of your reading by telling you what they are. We shall reveal only the fact that it is not a detective story. It is something more real, logical and enjoyable; in fact, the author seems to be laughing at detectives, both professional and amateurs and you will laugh with him. Generally to get an Oppenheim story, you have to buy the book.

Experts Plan to Chart Oil Producing Lands in North Wastes of Alaska

(By the Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 6.—In its latest search for valuable mineral wealth the government is sending a party of expert geologist and topographic engineers on a midwinter expedition to the tip of Alaska on the Arctic, to survey some 36,000 square miles of uncharted wilderness, rugged mountain chains and large stretches of undulating treeless plains.

A few days ago the Geological Survey told of the plans to send at the expense of the Navy Department, a small party of government technicians to northern Alaska to survey lands embraced in the navy's largest petroleum reserve, but little could be gathered from brief announcements as to the hazards and hardships this little band of men probably will face once it leaves the ice-free harbor of Seward to travel by railroad, boat dog-sled and canoe with four or five tons of supplies, and before it completes its reconnaissance at Dease Inlet, 25 miles east of Point Barrow.

Much of the region south of the reserve already has been surveyed by a party under direction of Dr. Philip S. Smith, leader if the party now on its way to far north, and portions east of it also have been examined by J. B. Mertie, another member of this winter's expedition.

The present party, in addition to Dr. Smith and Mertie, will consist of William T. Foran, geologist; Gerald Fitzgerald and R. K. Lynt, topographic engineers and several assistants. It will enter the region from the south, starting in mid-winter when some of the transportation problems are least difficult. It will be left on its own resources for at least six months, and tons of supplies will have to be transported, mainly by dog-sled, for 400 miles, even before reaching the reserve.

At Tanana, dog teams will be purchased and packers, camp hands, and dog-team drivers will be employed. From Tanana the technical members of the party will go north with four teams, comprising 30 dogs, followed by slower freight teams. From Nenana the route leads down the Tanana river to Tanana, thence along the mail trail overland nearly 150 miles to the little mission of St. John's-in-the-Wilderness. From here the route will follow the Atlatna river, a tributary of the Koyukuk, which rises in the high, rugged mountains that form the southern border of the naval reserve.

About 150 miles the Altatna, the northern limit of timber lands, the party will establish a headquarters camp from which it will explore the adjacent regions for a pass across the mountains, while waiting for the dog freights to catch up.

From here on for a distance of 700 miles, over a vast stretch of tundra, the expedition will have to use kerosene for cooking food which will consist of moose, mountain sheep, caribou, ptarmigan, fish and the small black bears of northern Alaska, the latter to contribute materially to the provisioning of the dog teams. These explorations will determine the most feasible pass across the mountains, and when found the party will move northward to the drainage basin of some tributary of the Colville river. Here two canoes will be cached with enough supplies to last four men a period of three months. The expedition will then push along to the west, following the northern front of the mountain range, in an attempt to find a pass over it into the drainage basin of Meade river.

By this time the summer season will be near at hand and sleddging no longer will be possible. One party of four will then return to the cache on the headwater stream of the Colville, while the other remains on the tributary of the Meade, each awaiting the break-up of the streams, after which the rest of the journey will be made by canoe.

After the ice breaks the parties will descend the streams, mapping them and the surrounding country in addition to making geological researches. The Colville party later will make a portage across to the Chipp or Ikkipkup River and descend it to Dease Inlet, a bay lying about 25 miles east of Point Barrow. Meade river also enters this inlet and when the two parties meet here the survey of the region will have been practically completed. Return will be by way of Point Barrow, Nome and Seattle.

A petition is being circulated here asking the legislature to abolish judicial district No. 7 and place the territory in the 9th judicial district.

The farmers are all very busy preparing their ground for another crop. Everybody is hoping that this will be a good year on the farm and that the farmers will soon get in a more prosperous condition.

O. G. Rose has retired from the Francis National Bank and F. W. Bean has been elected to fill his place. Mr. Bean was once cashier of the old Bank of Francis and is a handy man behind the bank counter.

Everybody on the Frisco is back at work after the short layoff last week and the business on the road here is marching along very smoothly.

F. Curtis, who got all his household goods burned a few weeks ago has moved his family from Francis to Texas.

It is hoped that the high freight rates will soon close down and that the high cost of living will be reduced. If the high cost of living could be reduced every body would get along better.

Traffic on the Frisco is still good and improvements on the yards here are still going on daily. The school is still progressing nicely under the management of Prof. J. T. Cunningham. It is reported that the term will end the 18 day of May.

A Ford car turned over with Bob Healy and Leon Lance last Sunday on the highway near Cedar Grove and seriously injured Mr. Lance's foot and slightly injured Mr. Healy's head and face.

Paying Calls Trives in Rome. ROME, Jan. 16.—The custom of paying calls in Rome on New Year's day, both social and official, prevails to such an extent it is calculated that more than 2,000,000 calling cards are handed out by the votaries of this old custom. Officials leave cards on all their superiors; ladies call on the diplomatic body and the leaders of society, and men are supposed to at least leave a card on all their woman friends.

AUSTRIAN COUNT SEEKS VAINLY FOR CITIZENSHIP

(By the Associated Press)

Prague, (By the Associated Press)—Count Berchtold, who was minister for foreign affairs in Austro-Hungary at the outbreak of the great war, now finds himself a man without a country. His citizenship is a tangle in international law which has become so complicated that the old statesman apparently must wipe out all his claims and become naturalized in one of the countries which sprang from the old Austro-Hungarian Empire.

After the creation of Czechoslovakia Count Berchtold assumed that he was a citizen of that country. Like hundreds of thousands of other men who had been associated with countries which had fought the entente powers, he regarded it desirable to become a Czechoslovakian. Passports from that new land were classed with the passports of the neutral powers in Europe. But Count Berchtold apparently forgot that for political reasons he had become naturalized in Hungary about 12 years ago. Consequently the Czechoslovakian government regards him as a Hungarian, and refuses to admit his citizenship in the new republic.

Hungary holds that the count has lost his Hungarian citizenship because he has not made use of it for ten years. He can make no claim to being an Austrian, and the distinction he achieved in European politics before the war does not save him from being an untaged non-entity, along with hundreds of thousands of other refugees whose citizenship was swallowed up in the remaking of the map of Europe.

Quickly Relieved of Stomach Trouble

BENJAMIN A. COUGHILL
St. Clair County, Columbus, Mich.

After overcoming a distressing stomach ailment with which he had been troubled for a long time, Mr. Coughill feels that he should be a booster for Dr. Shoop's RESTORATIVE, the remedy that relieved him.

"For years I had suffered intensely with stomach trouble. Doctors and medicine afforded no relief. Finally Dr. Shoop's RESTORATIVE was recommended and I commenced taking it. The first bottle didn't help much, but before I had finished another bottle, I began to feel considerably improved. Nine bottles made a new man of me. Stomach pains disappeared and indigestion vanished. I found I could eat a hearty, normal meal—and forget about it. This fall, for the first time in twenty years, I experienced a mild attack of my old trouble but obtained prompt relief with one bottle of RESTORATIVE."

Thousands of sufferers, like Mr. Coughill, have obtained amazing benefits from this 35 year old prescription. Not a quick remedy, but a proven formula of a famous physician, Dr. Shoop's RESTORATIVE acts on and keeps in tone the arterial nerves governing the action of the vital organs. In this way it combats diseases that arise from sluggishness of these organs. Regardless of what you have tried, get acquainted with this natural, effective remedy today. At your favorite drug store, liquid or tablets, $1.00.

THE EGG LAYING CONTEST

(By R. B. Thompson)
Poultry Department

The second month of the First egg laying contest developed a few interesting races. The first is probably a long distance in which hens number 388, a White Rhode Island owned by T. A. Layton, of Kingfisher, and 317, a White Wyandotte, owned by L. F. Frazier, of Stillwater, and 402, a Buff Orpington owned by B. F. Williams, of Duncan, are vying with each other for supremacy.

Hen number 388 has produced twenty-five eggs each twenty-four consecutive days. Number 317 and 402 have each produced twenty-eggs on twenty consecutive days. These are records of continuous production for the month of January.

Individual performance for the month ranged thirty eggs for the high hen, down to no eggs for a few hens in the contest. There were nineteen hens produced twenty-four eggs or more during the month. The average production for all hens in the contest was 12.6 eggs.

The average production by pens for the entire contest was 12.6 eggs. The average production for the high pen during the month 21.9 per pen. Total production for the high pen being 219 eggs. Average sales value of eggs per hen for the month 32.3 cents, and sales value for high pen 77 cents. Average price for eggs for the month 30.8 cents per dozen. The high pen for the entire contest to date is pen number 1, Single Comb White Leghorns, 373 eggs, owned by T. A. Layton, Kingfisher, Oklahoma. High pen for the entire contest is hen number 388, pen 38, Rhode Island White, 55 eggs, owned by T. A. Layton, Kingfisher, Oklahoma. The high pen for the contest for January is pen 17, Single Comb White Leghorn, 219 eggs owned by Fortune Poultry Farm, Boerne, Texas. The high pen for the month of January is 388 from pen 38, Rhode Island White, 30 eggs owned by T. A. Layton, Kingfisher, Oklahoma.

Farmer's Opinion of Dairying

Under the prevailing conditions of this country, it seems as though most farmers are facing problems rather difficult to solve. With a very short cotton crop, feed stuff high and livestock not worth their feed—I mean can not be sold for nothing like their worth, is causing a lot of us farmers to adopt some sort of side line in addition to our general farming.

At the present time dairy products command a better price than most anything else we can raise. In spite of the cost offered cream at 50c per pound is making us a profit. There was never a time when there was not a demand for milk or its products, and usually at a profitable price.

The regularity and frequency of the income from the sale of cream is an argument in its favor. A cream check coming in once or twice a week will help, or wholly take care of the current expenses of the home. When we do raise a good crop, some surplus livestock and get as much as a reasonable good price for them, the proceeds are then available for larger items, such as making payments on loans, buying improved breeding stock or machinery.

Only a small capital is needed to begin with the dairying and a small amount of time early each morning and late in the evening. Thus going most of the day to work in the field or elsewhere. Any kind of cows may be used that are healthy and produce enough milk to pay for their feed and a little extra.

Of course the better the cows the greater will be the profit. The skim milk usually pays for your labor if fed to calves, pigs or chickens. It is the best food that can be given to young stock.

Let us figure on milking about six cows this winter and see if they will pay their expenses and leave us any profit. Any farmer can care for six cows with out losing much time. The test of the milk may vary from three to seven percent owing to the breed individual and length of location period, but suppose these cows average five percent and produce an average of two and one-half gallons or twenty-one pounds of milk a day. Six cows producing 126 pounds of milk per day testing five percent would be 6 1-2 pounds of butter fat.

At the present price of 50c per pound this would be $3.50 per day. We would feed the cows a grain mixture of about one pound grain to each three pounds of milk produced, which would be about seven pounds of grain, two pounds of alfalfa hay per hundred weight of cows in addition to the stalk pasture or run on the wheat or winter barley. At the present price of feed stuff each cow would cost approximately 30c or a little less per day. The six heads would cost $1.80 worth of feed and produce $3.50 worth of cream. If skimmed milk pays for labor then we would have $1.70 per day profit or $51 per month, just from six cows and a small amount of time morning and at night.—J. G. A. Stonewall.

LONDON.—Once again the inhabitants of the northern islands of the Herbrides, and especially the island of Lewis, are bordering on starvation.

The islanders depend mainly upon the food derived from the crops they raise themselves, but when the crops fail serious hardships are entailed.

This year the trouble came through the destruction of the crops by the abnormally wet weather of the summer and autumn. So widespread and acute is the distress that appeals have been issued in Scotland and elsewhere for assistance.

FILIPINO BIBLE TO BE NATIVE SCRIPT

MANILA.—The earthquake and fire in Japan last September were the cause of bringing to Manila the largest individual typesetting and printing order ever undertaken in the Philippine Islands. The job is that of putting into type every word of the Bible in seven Philippine dialects for the American Bible Society.

Prior to the earthquake the printing for the American Bible Society in the Philippines was done in Japan, but the plant at Tokio was destroyed.

The contract for the typesetting, which requires about 24,000,000 ems, was signed today by L. C. Moore, manager of the Sugar News Press, and Rev. G. B. Cameron, manager of the American Bible Society in the Philippines.

The work will be done on a single linotype, which will be operated 16 hours a day by two men working eight hours a day each. They will be busy for the next year and nine months. More than 21,000 Bibles are included in the first order.

The seven Philippine dialects are Ilocano, Pangasinan, Pampangan, Tagalog, Bicol, Panayan and Cebuano.

ART IGNORED BY MIDWEST STATES

Art Folks Declare Middle West Must Pay Artists More Recognition

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—The midland must give it artists greater recognition also the heritage from the pioneer's pen, pencil and brush showing that the middle-west has all the material necessary for the novel, the drama or the character painting, will be lost, declare art folk and prominently interested friends here.

Midland landscape, its people and atmosphere have all that is required for great beauty in expression, they say, but because there is a backward response to his word, the east is annexing the western artist.

Authors, painters, architects, musicians and sculptors from the midland-west, said to be unappreciated in their native fields, are pointed out by these people as reaching fame and success in the east, in an environment where there is more encouragement and recognition in their products.

"We do not believe this situation to be one of higher literary or art intelligence among eastern people but rather to an uncultivated sense in the people of our section," said an authority in art circles here. "We know that midlanders appreciate natural beauty, our open expanses are too full of it not to be absorbed, but it appears that when it finds expression in book, painting or etching, the significance is not entirely felt."

"The majority of the successful authors in New York and New England came from the midland, as well as a large number of the prize winners at the exhibitions of painters and sculptors held in that section. Perhaps the east is more inclined to the freshness and wholesomeness of middle-western products which we have about us each day."

Realizing this tendency, steps have been taken to give the midland artists better facilities and to encourage a more profitable audience. The Allied Arts Association has been formed by persons interested in and directing art for its own sake. A modification in the immigration eastward is seen and the association plans to aid and encourage all artists and people of the midland in hopes of putting midland life into midland art.

"We will not concern ourselves with foreign artists but we will give out energy and efforts for the benefit of our own," said John M. Stahl, the president. "We will especially help the younger artists who are working honestly and hard to make a reputation, and of the older who blazed the way by showing we have all the material necessary for the novel, the drama, etcher or character painter."

FARMERS EAGER TO PROGRESS

(By the Associated Press)

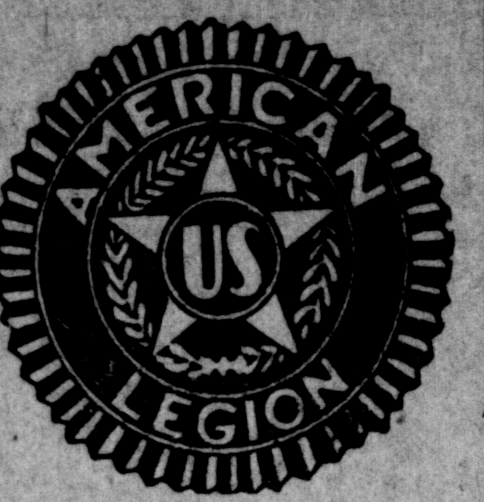

Davis, Cal. Feb. 6.—The late College of Agriculture at Davis, with 34 courses available for farmers has enrolled more than 60,000 students in its correspondence courses in the last ten years.

The correspondence courses are declared to have had a marked effect in improving methods of farming in California. Farmers who could not attend the classes have obtained much the same instruction by mail.

Washington, D. C.—The complete program of reorganization of the Central Office of the U. S. Veterans Bureau was announced by General Frank T. Hines, director of the Bureau today. The reorganization is effective January 15, of this year.

As announced the Central Office activities will be separated into two distinct groups, namely, those pertaining to operating and those pertaining to planning and control. There will be six Assistant Directors, four of which will supervise the activities pertaining to operations, and two, the activities pertaining to planning and control.

The Rehabilitation and Medical Divisions have been combined into one service to be known as the Hospitalization and Rehabilitation Service, which is to be headed by Col. George E. Ljams as Assistant Director. Col. Ljams has been serving as Executive Officer, which office is being discontinued upon his recommendation in an accord with the new organization. The present head of the Medical Division, Dr. L. B. Rogers, at his own request for field service is being transferred to U. S. Veterans' Hospital 41, New Haven, Conn. Dr. Edward P. Odend'hal, who is now the Medical Officer in charge of the Hospital at New Haven, will be assigned to the new tuberculosis hospital under construction at Tupper, Lake New York, which will be completed this month. The new head of the Medical Division to succeed Dr. Rogers has not yet been selected. Maj. Omer W. Clark will continue to serve as the chief of the Rehabilitation Division.

The supply service will continue to function with Col. William H. Conklin as Assistant Director in charge. Under this service there will be grouped four Divisions, namely, the Supply Division with J. E. Sossar as chief, the Construction Division with L. H. Tripp as Chief, the Chief Clerk's Division with W. C. Black as Chief, and the Personnel Division with W. M. Cobb as Chief. This grouping puts the business operations of the Bureau under a single head.

The Finance Service with Harold W. Breining as Assistant Director in charge will continue to function as recently organized. The two Divisions under this Service are the Disbursing Division, W. H. Holmes, Chief, and the Accounting Division, U. B. Schemmer, Chief. The Claims and Insurance Service, as announced recently, will function under Col. Charles E. Mulhearn as Assistant Director and will consist of two Divisions, namely, the Claims Division, H. H. Milks, Chief, and the Insurance Division, Col. C. A. Pennington, Chief.

The new organization will result in the elimination of the present administrative services, these being assigned to the other service to which they specifically apply.

The Planning Service, with R. C. Routsong as Assistant Director and functioning separately and distinctly from the operation services, has been created. This service is divided into two divisions, namely, the office Management Division and the Policy and Procedure Division. The heads of these divisions have not yet been named.

The Control Service also functioning distinct from the operation Davis G. Arnold as Assistant Director. Under this service are grouped two Divisions, namely, the Statistics and Cost Division and the Inspection Division. The heads of the latter two Divisions have not yet been named.

The General Counsel's Division has been reorganized to the extent of assigning all attorneys doing work pertaining to the functions of the several services, to those services. The principal changes involved are those transferring attorneys working on claims cases to the Claims Division and attorneys having dealing with leases and contracts to the Supply Division. The General Counsel will now maintain an office as legal advisor to the Director and the Assistant Directors. Major William Wolff Smith continues as General Counsel.

The Central Board of Appeals will operate in accordance with the program announced several weeks ago. This board will function directly under General Hines and will be entirely distinct from the services. The chairman of this board is Captain Charles O. Shaw.

In accordance with a policy recently determined upon of having business executives assigned to U. S. Veterans' Hospitals, Ralph Dority, until recently assistant to the Executive Officer, has gone to U. S. Veterans' Hospital 32 Washington, D. C. in that capacity.

General Hines has delegated all activities pertaining to the routine and detail of the several services created to the Assistant Directors in charge. This procedure will greatly relieve the director of much detail, enabling him to give his time to matters of policy.

JUDGE CLAIMS LACK OF THRIFT DIVORCE CAUSE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—Lack of thrift has been the chief cause of recent divorces here, according to statistics prepared by Judge Ralph H. Clock of the superior court, covering about 1,000 divorce cases.

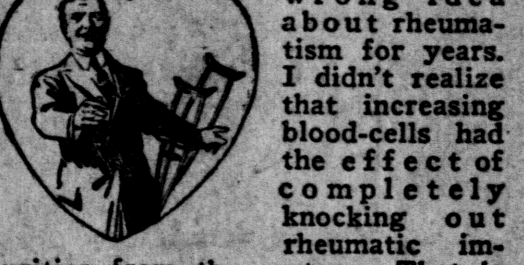

"In a number of cases," said Judge Clock, "the married couple lived together less than one day, while the greatest length of time that any couple lived together and then sought divorce was 39 years."

"Salesmen lead the comparative total of unfaithful husbands, ten percent of the defendants in such divorce actions being of that occupation. Next in order were contractors, merchants, plumbers, painters and printers, with a few barbers, strange to say, the list includes no attorneys—in fact, few professional men and women."

"If the idea of thrift and home-owning is to be inculcated in the minds of the American people it should be taught in the schools. Then there will be less inclination to rush to the divorce on the slightest pretext."

"My Rheumatism is gone"

"THERE are thousands of you men and women, just like I once was—slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S.S.S. Today I have the strength I used to have years ago! I don't use my crutches any more." S.S.S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. Start S.S.S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.
